

Dorothy writes to her friend, Nina Polcyn Moore, about her arrest.

The note reads:

Dear Nina -
Let's go back to Russia - see what the Lubyanka is like.
California jail was a vacation!
Wish you could have been there.
Love - Dorothy

"This was my prison uniform, signed by my fellow prisoners. It was like a Retreat. The Mexicans prayed the rosary arms outstretched. Cesar Chavez and family are wonderful people ... Truly poor and prayerful."

The Fresno County Jail smock worn by Dorothy during her imprisonment.

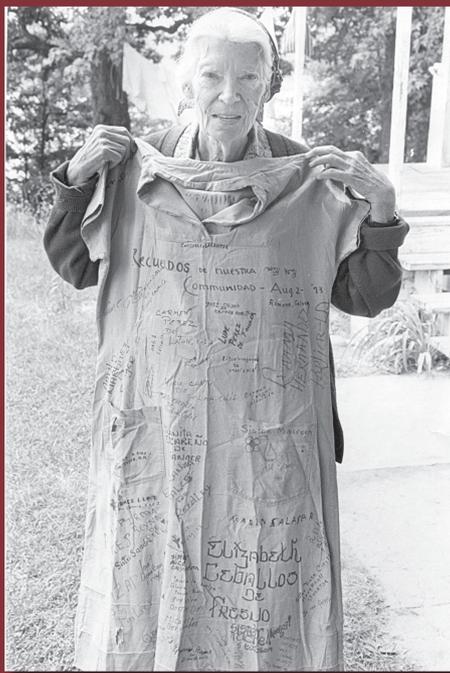

Photo Credit: Jack Payden-Travers

"She was for us a kind of beacon, a lighthouse, showing the way of faith in an unclear, turbulent world. She was always there, always true to her deep spirituality, always close to the poor. If we lost touch with her chosen way of living her faith, then it was time to examine what we were doing."

-César Chavez, Co-Founder of United Farm Workers

Dorothy visits with César Chavez

Photo Credit: Los Angeles Times